Rusev new look

Rusev new look

Rusev has a new look! As we've been reporting here on eWn, Rusev and WWE have been in a contract dispute and he hasn't appeared on WWE television since February 17th. He was scheduled to work the WWE Super ShowDown event but was later pulled. You can check out photos of his new look below: #Rusev's new bald look! pic.twitter.com/kNF4Xv1APx— WWE Business (@wwebusiness1) March 30, 2020 "bald rusev isn't real, he can't hurt you" Bald Rusev: pic.twitter.com/IYMwL8bpZy— Robbie (@rebelnakamura) March 30, 2020 Rusev has been in news lately due to various reports about his status with the company, though he also made some headlines yesterday because of a different reason. The Bulgarian Brute recently posted some photos from his Instagram and in the photos, he is seen with a new clean shaved look, for the first time since his WWE debut: We noted before how it was reported that Rusey's current WWE contract is set to expire soon, though the exact date of his contract expiration is not known. The former US Champion has been off TV for a while now and he was last seen on WWE programming during the WWE Super Showdown event where he participated in the 50 men battle royal. Just recently it was reported that Rusev, along with wife Lana have taken a leave from the company and he is not sure about his future. (Photo by Lukas Schulze/Bongarts/Getty Images) One of the biggest stars let go by WWE in their recent cuts was Rusev. The former Bulgarian Brute still had enormous potential in WWE, and his big storyline with Bobby Lashley seemingly fizzled out without a good resolution. Despite no longer having an in-ring career, Rusev looks to transition into a different kind of performance. In an Instagram broadcast earlier today, the wrestler vowed to enter the world of Twitch streaming: So, this is the deal, I got fired, right? Professional wrestling, blah, Rusev become a full-time influencer in the world of video games and leave wrestling behind? Probably not. Is this a great way to stay connected with fans while his contract's non-compete clause runs out? Yes. Yes, it is. Rusev unboxed his new PC in the 20-minute video and talks about a few other things while he unboxes things. Near the end, Rusev thanks his viewers, promises a future appearance on Ryback's podcast as a favor and claims that he'll answer "all the questions" when the time is right. If you want to follow along on Rusev's Twitch adventures, his channel is under construction but currently active and accepting follows. We all know his WWE championship feud with John Cena back days. In a recent interview, The Miz talks on several topics including his WWE future and his chemistry with John Morrison on WWE TV as well as backstage. During that interview, The Miz revealed that he feels quite comfortable right now and he thinks there are still many good things left in his arsenal. Details on The Miz's plans in WWEHere are The Miz's words: "Yeah, it's only the tip of the iceberg for me, though. Like, I look at it and I go, 'There's still things I want to do, and still things I want to do, and still things I want to accomplish while I still can. I'm still fast. I feel like I'm the best I've ever been to." The Miz discusses the impact of John Morrison's return to WWEThe Miz stuck in mid-card competition before John Morrison makes his return in WWE. After Morrison returns to WWE, Miz, and Morrison become SmackDown Tag Team champions. After losing championships, they remain a key player on the blue brand. The Miz on John Morrison WWE return and how he helps Miz: "Having John Morrison back has kind of revamped me if you will. It makes me feel better, and John tests my abilities both physically and mentally. He's an out of the box thinker, you know? He thinks like no one else I've ever met in my entire life. And sometimes you've gotta tone him down and go, 'That's a little bit too out of the box.' But I think us together is just immense chemistry, and we've been creating some memorable moments. And honestly? Memorable songs that people still sing to me."#2 WWE Spoilers: Mustafa Ali was the guest on MVP's VIP Lounge. That thing led towards the singles match of Mustafa Ali vs Bobby Lashley.
