Android has been around for more than a year, and at that moment the developers whipped some large apps. Whether you are a new Android owner or a pro looking for new tools, these 10 fantastic and free apps belong to your Arsenal.Photo of Lwallenstein. To jump immediately above the apps that are so common, universal, and well replicated on the iPhone or other mobile platforms that a user with a need probably we can do - Facebook, Yelp, Evernote, remembers milk and endless twitter clients, Widget and app. We also skipped on Google's ordered apps, like Google Voice, navigation and glasses, which are (or will) included the standard on new Android phones. Instead, we are aiming to shine a small light on apps that can easily offer excellent functionality for those who download them Searches, off from some comments and emails Andro-savvy.10. Layarin Some ways, this is a vote for the potential of layar as much as the practical application. Walking through your phone and see Wikipedia's subjects, apartments for sale and what Twitter users have delighted through your phone is a rather accurate thing, and potentially useful when you're looking for things to do in a new city. But as Layar continues to add new levels, and how the camera and mobile processing power continue to improve, Layar could become much more interesting than already. One thing worth remembering is that if you don't like the view of the 3D camera, or as the appearance of yourself while you use it, Layar can only show the points of interest on a Google type map. Anyway that you use it, it's an intriguing aspect to what is happening around the corner. FreeThe As Desside tariller at Android multi-tasking is that at times, some apps can become unexpectedly become magni of memory or bandwidth or bring the phone with them when they lock. Few apps provide a direct and easy "chit" option, however, and sometimes you can't get to the To close it. Enter taskiller, a free app murder utility that works from its standard icon, or as a series of numerous widgets you can add to the home screen to save the system with a single click. The free version serves advertisements and lacks some advanced features, but generally serves the needs of anyone who tires you to need to actually reset the phone just to clarify space for, know, phone calls and such. Note: This app must be used as more than a last resort than the regular maintenance tool, killing processes and Willy-Nilly apps can disable alarms, kill background synchronization and have other non-intentional consequences.5. Slidescreeenyou uses your Android smartphone differently from your desktop computer. Don't work with files and shortcuts, so that check-in on data flows that interests you - E-mail, text messages, Facebook and Twitter, chats and the like. Slidescreeen replaces, or simply increasing, if you wish, the main phone screen, creating line after the message line and feed. Slide the central information bar upwards and down to look more or less of your items, scroll right to dismiss items like beds and finish having all your data on your hand at once. Slidescreeen also replaces the standard application tray, offering 8 slots to put your apps most frequently accessible and tuck up all the others in a rolling bridge below. It's a total makeover for your phone, in other words - one that could simply make you fall in love with the concept of mobile data. Shoperokay, at the beginning we were rather skeptical of the application of Google's Shopper, since it only seemed a mashup of his Google glasses and Google's smart-smart apps like Shopsavvy. Then we actually used the shopper, and we were amazed both from what is accurately considered both barcodes and simple hedging shots, and how much it worked very quickly. It turns out, according to a developer who appeared in this week in Google, shopper is actually loading the image data on Google servers as it captures and decodes the barcode on the phone. The speed for the speed sake is beautiful, of course, but it's nice enough not to have to stand in front of a display of a book for a whole two minutes, waving the phone around a group of books you are trying to do the competitive price. Astro File ManagerThis is one of those app app Hope has a bit of attention, if only to be purchased from Google or otherwise integrated into the base phone software. Astro File Manager does a great job to allow you to navigate the files on the SD card and the internal memory accessible, surely, but it also has your own integrated killer task, backing up applications, can send files as e-mail attachments (not everything Easy or intuitive from the mail client, for some reason) and much more. It is the Leatherman of Android utilities and a must-have on any serious Geek phone. To each of them, obviously, but we would like to hear which Android apps consider crucial to your phone in the comments. We tend to free, but if you have found a cheap app that is worth a few dollars, our loving Android readers and developers, they would probably be happy for the referral. The era of the use of the real telephones of the earth line has everything but end. Between internet easily accessible and cheap smartphones, it's easy to cut that cable forever. You still have to find a data connection as a data plan as a transport plan or wifi, but otherwise each app on this list allows you to make free calls. We will not really distinguish you between physical phone calls with numbers or VoIP calls because in the end to serve the same function, but we have included both types of apps in the list. We recommend VoIP on physical calls, though, because internet is available in practice anywhere and is much easier. Here are the best free calls for Android! You can also click here to check the best apps and free call sites for PCs, Mac, Linux and iOS! Dington is one of the many free calls on Google Play. However, this seems to hit a good balance. It gives you a dedicated phone number in your local prefix if you want. Furthermore, it can call phones in over 200 countries. You can make unlimited calls on data until your friends and family use even dingle. You can make calls to real phone numbers with a credit system, from which in-app purchases. You can add free credits through various promotions and advertisements. So, it's not 100% free in terms of time, but at least you don't have to spend money if you don't want. Facebook apps are generally rather average. They were full of lenses and eat a lot of battery. However, practically everyone uses Facebook. This makes it a rather decent option. Facebook Messenger is the Facebook autonomous messaging app. It has free messaging, free calls and free video chats. The app also has some games to play. The only thing you need is to be friends on facebook with someone and you are good to go, even if in some cases this is not too necessary. It's a good app to try because it is easier to convince people to use Facebook compared to going to something different. Joe Hindy / Android AutoryGoogle Duo is a video chat app. It is also one of the most easy to use free calls. Just download it, open it, enter your phone number and you can start making free video calls. The only negative is that the other person will also have to use Google duo. However, the good news is that Google duo is free and multi-platform. This means that at least IOS and Android works. It just does video calls, but they are good quality and you can do just whatever you want. A recent update allows people to make only vocal calls if necessary. Price: free / $ 6.99 / varurchrooveip is a good free call app. It will give you a real US number of phone that you can actually give to people. The service itself supports both calls and texts. The free part is a bit IFYF, though. You can earn credits for free. However, you will have to complete the And watch video advertisers to do it. It's a bit boring, but it works surely. Of course, they also have the possibility of buying credits. The service will provide you free credits to use monthly. So it's a great app for free limited calls. The app seems to be good or annoying from updating a to However, it's free it's free, so we didn't win too much. Skype is one of the most popular free calls apps outside. Its brand's characteristic is the ability to be used on mobile phones, computers, tablets and most other calculation devices. You can send text messages, voice calls and video calls for free to other people using Skype. You will need to pay the credits to use if you want to call actual phone numbers. However, we appreciate the possibility of calling effective phone numbers from the service. Of course, you can call other Skype members and you can chat with more people in a single voice call. Private Messenger signal is an increasingly popular service that focuses on safety. It's open source and encrypt everything you send. This includes voice calls, text messages and all between. It offers free calls and texts, although other people must also use the Private Messenger signal. Everything is completely free, at least for now. It is definitely the option Go to those who want free calls but are also worried about safety. Please note, it's only safe only if both parties use the Private Messenger signal. Price: free / $ 6.67- $ 12.50 per member per month we reached a bit with the game. However, they actually make free calls to other people who use the game. It is an increasingly popular chat service that aimed to both great and small businesses. You will be able to create text channels, message message individually and is supplied with integration with a ton of other apps. Even the multi-platform platform and calls are quite easy to do. They could be a bit blurred if you're talking to people across the world, though. For now, the game is completely free for almost everyone. Price: Free with In-App AcquirestextNow is an app that offers free textures and free calls. You will get your dedicated phone number that you can actually give to other people. You can call people in the United States and Canada for free. However, you will have to pay to call international numbers. This is not exceptional if you live outside the United States, but this is exactly what you are looking for if you live there. The whole thing is funded by advertisements. Registration for a plan removes those. This is the best app to make free calls right now. Price: Free with in-Appviber purchase has started life as a basic VoIP service. Since then it has been expanded in a skipped service in all that offers text chat, voice chats and even video chat. You can call anyone else who uses Viber for free. Like Skype, there is a small fee if you want to call phone numbers for people who don't use Viber. It also has a lot of other features. Some of them, like hidden messaging, can be useful. However, many of them are small as little as the stickers that don't really matter too much. Viber to Verber calls, texts and video chats are completely free. It is also possible to buy adhesives and some customization options with in-app purchases, but those are entirely optional. Last up is the venerable WhatsApp. He started as a text platform, but he has slowly evolved to include free calls and free video chats. Like most, you can use the free call function only if you connect with another person who uses whatsapp. Since it is one of the most popular chat apps in existence, it should not be too ugly to get other people about it. It's enormous, it's powerful, and it works very well. It also has a variety of other features that help make the experience much better. Joe Authority Authority Hindy / Android
