Grand Theft Auto V for mobile devices is, as you can guess, available in two different versions. One was developed with the thought of users who make use of devices equipped with Android operating system. The other one is precisely created for iPhones, iPads, and other iDevices that are capable of launching the game. For the obvious reasons the gameplay mechanics were slightly altered in order to make it much easier for the users to play the game without problems. Nevertheless, the most important elements of gameplay as well as key characteristics that the game could boast are still the same. It means that we can hope for very interesting driving system, well-developed graphics (which was also optimized for the mobile devices), and of course shooting system that will appeal to most of you. It is worth to mention that as it befits for huge mobile games, GTA 5 Mobile requires quite new and highly-advanced phone in order to launch it smoothly, without any problems related to optimization.
